Privacy Notice

The Northern NC Trust is a registered charity that helps find funding to support Newfoundland's in need. At the Northern NC Trust we take your privacy very seriously and have a policy that explains why and how we will store, process and secure the information you give to us. to read our Privacy Policy.

How information about you will be used

To help us to help you we may share your information with other charities we approach on your behalf, our trusted partners and suppliers, but this will always be carried out under our instruction, and is never for their marketing approaches. We ensure that they store the data securely and delete it when it is no longer needed.

Your declaration

I understand the following:

By submitting this application form and signing this declaration I agree to the information on the form (and any attachments) being stored in The Northern NC Trust manual filing systems and computer systems for the sole purpose of grant processing, analysis, monitoring and accounting.

I also agree to the information on the form, its attachments, and any reports derived from these being divulged to any charity to which The Northern NC Trust may apply on my behalf for the sole purpose of securing financial assistance for me, and to the Northern NC Trust other trusted partners and suppliers when The Northern NC Trust provides services to me.

All of your information will be treated in the strictest confidence and not shared with another third party without your consent.

If I give information that is incorrect or incomplete you may refuse my application.

I declare that the information I have given on this form is correct and complete.

Our Privacy Principles

We will look after any personal information that you share with us.

This is central to our values as an organisation. We want everyone who supports us, or who comes to us for support, to feel confident about how any personal information shared will be looked after or used.

You can be confident that:

- We only use personal information in the ways we need to and that is expected of us.
- We will keep you up to date with our work as well as our fundraising activities. But, we only use your personal information to do this if you have previously told us that's OK.
- We will make it easy for you to tell us how you want us to communicate with you, including how to opt out from future communications – and we promise your request will be respected straight away.
- We will never release your information to organisations outside Charity Link for their marketing purposes.
- We will be especially careful and sensitive when engaging with vulnerable people or those we have reason to believe might be vulnerable
- We take all reasonable care to safeguard your personal information through security policies and secure business processes.
- We will always provide easy ways for you to contact us. Our Data Protection Officer is happy to answer any queries you have, at any time.

We know that your privacy is very important to you. We promise that it is just as important to us.

How we collect personal information about you

We may collect personal information from you when you interact with the Newfoundland Canine Trust. There are many occasions when this could happen, for example: if you enquire about our activities, ask us to help with your needs, register with us, make a donation to us, purchase something, apply for a job or volunteering opportunity, if you chose to provide some optional feedback or otherwise provide us with personal information. And, this may be when you phone us, go on to our website, or contact us through the post, or in person.

What information do we collect?

The personal information we collect might include your contact details such as name, date of birth, email address, postal address & telephone number as well as information you provide in any correspondence between us. We will not store credit/debit card details (if you are making a purchase or donation),

We may also gather general information about the use of our websites, such as which pages users visit most often and which services, events or facilities are of most interest. We may also track which pages users visit when they click on links in Newfoundland Canine Trust emails. We may use this information to personalise the way our websites are presented when users visit them, to make improvements to our websites and to ensure we provide the best service for users. Wherever possible we use aggregated or anonymous information which does not identify individual visitors to our websites.

Cookies

‘Cookie’ is a name for a small file, usually of letters and numbers, which is download onto your device, like your computer, mobile phone or tablet when you visit a website.

They let websites recognise your device so that the sites can work, or work better and also gather information about how you use the site. A cookie, by itself, can’t be used to identify you.

How do we use cookies?

We use cookies to distinguish you from other users of our website. This helps us to provide you with a good experience when you come to our website and also allows us to improve our site.

The cookies we use

We use the categorisation set out by the International Chamber of Commerce in their UK Cookie Guide.

We use all four categories of cookies:

- Strictly necessary cookies are essential for you to move around our website and to use its features, like our shopping basket and your account.
- Performance cookies collect anonymous information about how you use our site, like which pages are visited most. No information that identifies you is kept.
- Functionality cookies remember choices you make to improve your experience, like your text size or location. They may also be used to provide services you have asked for such as watching a video or commenting on a blog. They are anonymous.
- Targeting or advertising cookies collect information about your browsing habits in order to make advertising relevant to you and your interests.

No cookies, please

You can opt out of all our cookies (except the strictly necessary ones). Find out how to control and delete cookies in your browser. But, if you choose to refuse all cookies you may not be able to use our website properly. If you have any questions about how we use cookies, please contact us.

How do we use personal information?

We may use your personal information to:

- Provide you with the advice and support you've asked us for
- Provide or administer activities relating to all our services: updating you with important administrative messages, to help us identify you when you contact us, and help us to properly maintain our records;
- Approach other charities for assistance on your behalf if you have applied to us for help. We may need to disclose your information to those charities but will only do so if you give us your consent.
- Improve your experience with us. We may use your information to enhance the service that our staff provide, to fulfil your orders and gift aid declarations, to improve our information and communications, or to personalise the website to better suit your needs;
- Provide you with information about our plans. This may be letting you know about new or enhanced services that we hope will be useful and interesting to you, and may include fundraising updates; of course, we will only do this either with your consent, where we need to fulfil a contract or service with you, or where we believe you will expect to be updated and contacted by us. You can of course ask us at any time to change how we contact you, simply contact info@newfoundlandcaninetrust.org.uk
- Analyse the personal information we collect about you so that we can better understand our supporters, their preferences and needs and important trends. This may mean looking at all the interactions you have with us so we can aim to offer you the right information or offers at the right time; including financial interactions so we can ensure we ask you for an appropriate level of support. It may also mean using external sources of information about you, the area where you live, or people like you, so we can better inform how we talk to you about our work. We believe this enables us to offer you more appropriate offers and communications, but you can opt out of this activity at any time. To do this please send an email to info@nothernnctrust.co.uk
